All Because

Tree63

I want to set the story straight
It's time to tell the truth
I never could have come so far
If it were not for YouYou covered up my sin
You covered up my silence
You covered up my shame
You made me new againIt's all because of You
It's all because of You, YouThey tell me to abandon You
To make my dreams come true
So what am I supposed to do?
If I only dream of YouYou covered up my sin
You covered up my silence
You covered up my shame
You made me new againIt's all because of You
It's all because of YouIt's all because of You, You
It's all because of YouIt's all because of You, my love
It's all because, all because of YouYeah, yeah, yeah, yeah
Yeah, yeah
All because of You
It's all because of You
All that You were through
It's all because of YouAll because of You
All because of You
All because of You
