

London Rain (Nothing Heals Me Like You Do)

Heather Nova

I'm comin', I'm comin' home to you
I'm alive, I'm a mess
I can't wait to get home to you
To get warm, warm and undressed
There've been changes beyond my dreams
Everybody wants me to sing
There've been changes beyond my grasp
Things I'm sinkin' in
So keep me, keep me
In your bed all day, all day
Nothin' heals me like you do
Nothin' heals me like you do
And when somebody knows you well
Well there's no comfort like that
And when somebody needs you
Well there's no drug like that
So keep me, keep me
In your bed all day, all day
Nothin' heals me like you do
Keep me, keep me
In your bed all day, all day
Nothin' heals me like you do
And where I'm home, curled in your arms
And I'm safe again
I'll close my eyes and sleep, sleep
To the sound of London rain
So keep me, keep me
In your bed all day, all day
Nothin' heals me like you do
Keep me, keep me
In your bed all day, all day
Nothin' heals me like you do
Nothin' heals me like you do
Nothin' falls like London rain
Nothin' heals me like you do
Nothin' falls like London rain
Nothin' heals me like you do
Nothin' falls like London rain
Nothin' heals me like you do
