Super Steve

Machinae Supremacy

I only act and speak as I feel
Their world so enigmatic and unrealWe've got some freak potential
But that's just great
It makes us who we are
Molding our mental stateIt feels so fragile our web of dreams
Yet you could not break its truth
Nor tear its seamsDon't look so skeptic
When you turn your eyes to me
Sometimes a hero ain't
What you've seen on TVThe fire, it knows me and I can walk
Through the blaze without a mark
Forever it owes me the life, I lost in the darkThe higher it takes me the more
I'm able to reach outside the walls
Of our perception and grab a piece for us allSome flaws are character
Wear your crown
Come brother me
And all illusions will fall down
