

Super Steve

Machinae Supremacy

I only act and speak as I feel
Their world so enigmatic and unreal We've got some freak potential
But that's just great
It makes us who we are
Molding our mental state It feels so fragile our web of dreams
Yet you could not break its truth
Nor tear its seams Don't look so skeptic
When you turn your eyes to me
Sometimes a hero ain't
What you've seen on TV The fire, it knows me and I can walk
Through the blaze without a mark
Forever it owes me the life, I lost in the dark The higher it takes me the more
I'm able to reach outside the walls
Of our perception and grab a piece for us all Some flaws are character
Wear your crown
Come brother me
And all illusions will fall down
