

She Wants To Be Alone

Ingram Hill

She don't believe in anything
Never in love with those who love her
Taking time by men's side She carries her weight of broken dreams
Carefully hiding everything from her heart
Doesn't know what she's missing She wants to be alone
She wants to change her whole way of life
She wants to be alone and there's no way around
She said, she doesn't need me, she doesn't need anyone Selling the girl you never see
Falling apart to the sound of nothing
She likes it that way Waited around patiently, hoping to be the one she needs
But she's running away, turning away
She won't stay She wants to be alone
She wants to change her whole way of life
She wants to be alone and there's no way around
She said, she doesn't need me, she doesn't need anyone Keep me in mind, I will be on call all the time
'Cause I want you more than anyone She wants to be alone
She wants to change her whole way of life
She wants to be alone and there's no way around
She said that she doesn't need me She wants to be alone
She wants to change her whole way of life
She wants to be alone and there's no way around
She said, she doesn't need me and she doesn't need anyone
She doesn't need anyone

Songwriters

Adam Watts; Andrew Dodd; Matthew Franklin Chambliss; Phillip Charles Bogard; Justin Moore Published by SEVEN PEAKS MUSIC; DYING EGO MUSIC Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>