

Falter

Jake Morley

Falter

I'm a statue by the water
Forever shaping up to dive
Forever pausing on the verge

Headstrong

Where has all that old courage gone?
Like a castle in the sand
I am made in the shape of strength
Yet still I crumble

Headstrong

I always used to be so headstrong
But I lost it, where did I go wrong?
All I seem to do is falter

Falter

Tiptoed the wrong way
Down a corridor of creaky boards
Is it me or did I hear a sound, see a silhouette,
Maybe this could be the end?

Be headstrong

And taste it with a curious tongue
'Cause staring at the little shards
Of checkered lights through blurry fingers
It's all a part of this
A part of being alive

Headstrong

I always used to be so headstrong
Yeah I lost it, where did I go wrong?
All I seem to do is falter

Headstrong

I always used to be so headstrong
Yeah I lost it, where did I go wrong?
All I seem to do is falter
