Fleeting Glimpse

From Zero

The bigger you get the harder you fall
Bringing you closer to my needs
We both understand what's happened so far
Well my vindication tells me
To hold on to this long and winding road
Hold on to the one you are
The closer you get the farther you fall
Bringing you backwards every time
I don't understand but this time I'll try
If my reservations tell me
To hold on to this long and winding road
Hold on to the one you are
Just hold out for one more day
But watch out 'cause you might regret it
There's so much more to who you are
I'm placing all my trust in you
'Cause this is for the real deal now
Real now
Beginning the end the hardest of all
It happens to everyone sometime
Count your regrets it's coming to call
And I'm on my way to get mine
So hold on to this long and winding road
Hold on to the one you are
Just hold out for one more day
But watch out 'cause you might regret it
There's so much more to who you are
I'm placing all my trust in you
'Cause this is for the real deal now
Real now, real now, real now
Real now
Real now
Real now
Real now
