

Tragedy (Austin Cello Version)

Brandi Carlile

Sorry I'm only
Human you know me
Grown up oh no guess again My days always
Dry up and blow away
Sometimes I could do that too
But make no mistake that When you need a friend
You could count on anyone
But you know I'll defend
The tragedy that we knew as
The end Progress, changing
Growing then giving up
Somehow we're never quite prepared
But I understand it When you need a friend
You could count on anyone
But you know I'll defend
The tragedy that we knew as
The end So taking you with me would be like
Taking all your money to the grave
It does no good to anyone especially
The one you're trying to save
But it's so hard not to save When you need a friend
You could count on anyone
But you know I'll defend
The tragedy that we knew as
The end
