

Black Box

WNYC, New York Public Radio

Featuring Bruno Mars

(Verse)

Sending out a mayday

We're going down

Nothing we could have done

Would have turned it round

Everything we had scattered everywhere

Searching through the wreckage of a love affair

(Bridge)

You got something to say?

Say it to me

Not everyone else

You say that I'm to blame

My words are in vain

Don't go fooling yourself

(Chorus)

There's a little black box yea

Somewhere in the ocean

Holding all the truth about us

There's a little black box

A record of emotion

Everything that ever was

You may deny it

But when I find it

I'm gonna play it aloud to the world

Little black box yea

In a little black box yea

(Verse)

There's a lot of pressure when you get deep

You left me on my own at six hundred feet

I was looking round for a little help

But everyone was looking out for themselves

(Bridge)

You got something to say?

Say it to me

Not everyone else

You say that I'm to blame

My words are in vain

Don't go fooling yourself
(Chorus)
There's a little black box yea
Somewhere in the ocean
Holding all the truth about us
There's a little black box
A record of emotion
Everything that ever was
You may deny it
But when I find it
I'm gonna play it aloud to the world
Little black box yea
In a little black box yea

(Verse)

You can't stop a true survivor
You'll discover that on your own
Cause I'm a true survivor
And I'll be here after you've gone
Long after you've gone
Long after you've gone

(Chorus)

There's a little black box yea
Somewhere in the ocean
There's a little black box
A record of emotion
Everything that ever was
You may deny it
But when I find it
I'm gonna play it aloud to the world
Little black box yea
In a little black box yea
Little black box
Little black box
Little black box
