By Any Means

A Dozen Furies

I'm feeling
"Why try anymore?"The ice is broken
The page is open now
For all the world to see
We've scratched the surface
For what it's worth
We've beaten odds
Against our waysBy any means
We are the ones who want to be
On our own (waste deep in need)
By any means
We're all aboard
The destinations unknown
We're chasing the dayWe've raised our standards
We've questioned answers from
The ones who brought us up
We've braced ourselves so
It's getting old to hear
The things that matter mostNever coming downStumble out of the dark
To find whats in the light is not
Appealing anymore
What we ask for might not be
Appealing anymore
