

Lay Low

Crystal Fighters

Friends, I love you so
It's a matter of time
Before we leave the ones we know
So don't waste your time (no)
Live life [?]
In a [?] of dawn
You might be the next to go Tiny shiny life
Come on and lay low
Trying to make it right
It's time to let it go Now we finally see the water
The reflections all define me
And the love that is between us
Running through the great unknown
From the tops of the highest mountains
To the depths of the greatest oceans
Our love is shining gold
Our love is shining gold
Our love is shining gold
Our love is shining gold Friends and family
What would it be without your love?
And what a miracle this life is
To be the best part [?] stars above Tiny shiny life
Come on and lay low
Trying to make it right
It's time to let it go [?] shiny life
They want to lay low
Trying to make it right
[?] let it go
Tiny shiny life
Come on and lay low
Trying to make it right
It's time to let it go Now we finally see the water
The reflections all define me
And the love that is between us
Running through the great unknown
From the tops of the highest mountains
To the depths of the greatest oceans Our love is shining gold
Our love is shining gold
Our love is shining gold

Our love is shinning gold
Our love is shinning gold
Now we finally see the water
Our love is shinning gold
Our love is shinning gold
Now we finally see the water
Our love is shinning goldNow we finally see the water
The reflections all define me
And the love that is between us
Running through the great unknown
From the tops of the highest moutians
To the dephts of the greatest oceansOur love is shinning gold
