Made To Measure

The Hoosiers

Meet me tonight by the Mulberry Lake
I got two legs that they said they'd break
Such a silly thing to do, fall in love with youDon't be scared I got plans of my own
We may be born here but this isn't our home
Such a simple thing to do, run away with youThey say they'll come for me tonight
They say they'll come for me tonight
They say they'll come for me
And none of them will comfort me
Unless we leave this town tonightWe're better together
You and I, we were meant forever
Don't get hurt by up setters
You and I, we were made to measureDon't know how but they're onto us
My lips were sealed, who betrayed my trust?
Such a silly thing to do, fall in love with youI see stars and there's a pain in my chest
I fell hard but you said baby knows best
My God, what were you thinking of?
We're cut from the same clothThey say they'll come for me tonight
They say they'll come for me tonight
They say they'll come for me
And none of them will comfort me
Unless we both leave this town tonightWe're better together
You and I we were meant forever
Don't get hurt by up setters
You and I, we were made to measureWe were made to measure
We were made to measureBut if you lied, I'll tear the sky in two
The blood, red moon will hide its face from view
The sea will boil and froth
At very prospects of me and youI'm taking back this town tonight
I'm taking back this town tonight
I'm taking back this townNothing good comes without a fight
Nothing good comes without a fight
Nothing good comes without a fight
And we will brave, we'll make our stand tonightWe're better together
You and I we were meant forever
Don't get hurt by up setters
You and I, we were made to measureTogether
You and I, we were made to measure
Up setters
You and I, we were made to measureWe were made to measure

We were made to measure
You and I, we were made to measure
