

Somewhere In China

Shop Assistants

She lived somewhere in China
Iâ€™ll think that Iâ€™ll go out and find her
Just to see if there is a better world for me
Sailing down the Yangtze Yang in a bright red and blue sampan
I know the only way to cover it is real slow

But Iâ€™d rather go much faster
To meet a girl to New York City
In an aeroplane that Iâ€™d meant to flown
Of bright green wings

I know itâ€™s so much colder now than itâ€™s ever been before
I never ever seem to hear you laughing now
Come and sit beside me here and we watch the fire go down
And dream of days and nights when we were young

Time seems to go much faster
Living in the cold out city
But we can still pretend to having funâ€”having fun

She lived somewhere in China
