give it back

Proem

We've shared our lives and all of what we know
But now it seems you don't know me from
The guy next door, or the next or the next
Give it back
You need to give it back
'Cause loyalty is something that you lack
I let you in and showed you all of me
But you took it all then trashed the place
And I'm so sick of cleaning it up
Give it back
You need to give it back
'Cause loyalty is something that you lack
Give it back
My time and devotion
Give it back
The love that I gave
No more making it up to you
I don't think that you're ever gonna do it
No more making it up to you

I don't think that you're ever gonna do it
No more making it up to you
I don't think that you're ever gonna do it
No more making it up to you
I don't think that you're ever gonna do it
No more making it up to you
I don't think that you're ever gonna do it
No more making it up to you
I don't think that you're ever gonna do it
Give it back
You need to give it back
'Cause loyalty is something that you lack
Give it back
My time and devotion
Give it back
The love that I gave
No more making it up to you
I don't think that you're ever gonna do it
