Wedding Song

Tank

I just wanna sing my songWhen I met you, you were like that perfect girl
Thought I'd never find that in my ghetto worldYou never question my job
You never tore up my rent
You never spend up my money
You never scuffed up my chinBut one year later, I don't know who you be
And I can't take it, way you be mistreatin' meAnd now you don't cook no more
And now you go through my phone
And now you spend up my money
And now you fuss all day longThis is my wedding song
If you feel me, sing along y'all
If I had known what I know
What I know, what I know right now
Things would be different now
And I wouldn't be standin' hereSingin' in my wedding song
We'd be somewhere gettin' it on
And we'd still be freakin' each other
I'd still be friends with your mother
Somehow it all went wrongAnd now I'm standin' here
Singin' in my wedding song
Oh, my wedding songGirl, you trippin', how you gon' say I done change?
Girl, you trippin' with that big ass wedding ringMaybe I'm not always home
Maybe I leave up the seat
Maybe I don't always listen
Maybe I snore when I sleepBut I still loved you even with your attitude
And I still loved you, that's why I took care of youBaby, I gave you two kids
Baby, I bought you this house
Baby, I changed up yo' life
Remember I kicked what's his name outThis is my wedding song
If you feel me sing along, y'all
If I had known what I know
What I know, what I know right now
Things would be different now
And I wouldn't be standin' hereSingin' in my wedding song
We'd be somewhere gettin' it on
And we'd still be freakin' each other
I'd still be friends with your mother
Somehow it all went wrongAnd now I'm standin' here
Singin' in my wedding song
Oh, my wedding songFor better or for worse

That's what the preacher said
But I didn't think it'd get this bad
And I know I said 'I do'
But I'll be damned if I grow old with youAnd you said you'll never change
But you did as soon as I gave you my last name
Girl, I can't believe there's no more you and me
Sad but there's just so it's gotta be, babyThis is my wedding song
If you feel me sing along, y'all
If I had known what I know
What I know, what I know right now
Things would be different now
And I wouldn't be standin' hereSingin' in my wedding song
We'd be somewhere gettin' it on
And we'd still be freakin' each other
I'd still be friends with your mother
Somehow it all went wrongAnd now I'm standin' here
Singin' in my wedding song
Singin' in my wedding songMy wedding song song
My wedding song song
It's my wedding song song
It's my wedding song song
