Your Balloon Is Rising (feat. Paul Weller)

Stone Foundation

Moved by an action that changes the pattern of things
Simple reactions that pass people by on the wind
May your words go on forever
May your kindness show no measure
Keep on breathing your life into evey little thingAnd your balloon is rising
Way up to the clouds
This could be the start of something
So don't let it down
Don't let it down
Fooled by an image of mornings that dance into spring
Every second is wasted by turning your back on every little thingMake your word count for something
May your kindness show your ling
Cause you're breathing your life all into the worldAnd your balloon is rising
Way up to the clouds
This could reallly be the start of something
So don't let it down
Yeah your balloon is rising
Way up to the clouds
And this could be the start of something
So don't let it down
Time moves faster every day
Don't be alarmed heaven awaits
Your balloon your balloon is rising
Way up to the clouds
This could really be the start of something
Don't let it down
And your balloon is rising
Yes your balloon is rising
