The Strokes

With all the noise above
He tried to call his name,
The trial would go on,
The day it just begun!

Living in an empty world
Living in an empty world
Living in an empty world
Living in an empty world

The diamond cuts her eye
The crowd beyond went wild
They weren't all that proud
By now they hear it loud

Living in an empty world
Living in an empty world
Living in an empty world
Living in an empty world

I'm okay, I'm all right
I was out late last night
Empty world, empty world
I will wait one more night
