Don't Get Your Back Up

Sarah Harmer

Baby, if I could keep it together
Don't you think I'd try?
And maybe if I could
Make something of this
Why wouldn't I?You say I close a blind eye
That I don't put up the time
But what you see as goodbye
I don't see as a crimeI'm tired of the blame
Being put on my head
You're breathing fire
But you're not bringing back
What's deadDon't get your back up over this
If I'm so wrong and you're so right
You really got your mind made up I guess
Won't you let me get some sleep tonight?It's late now and there's only
Four hours 'til I get up again
You know I'd wait somehow
If I thought this was somethingThat a little time would mend
You, you're dragging this misery on
Let's leave this thing for a while
It's too far gone, too far goneDon't get your back up over this
If I'm so wrong and you're so right
You really got your mind made up I guess
Won't you let me get some sleep?
Won't you let me get some sleep?
Won't you let me get some sleep tonight?Don't get your back up over this
If I'm so wrong and you're so right
You really got your mind made up I guess
Won't you let me get some sleep?
Won't you let me get some sleep?
Won't you let me get some sleep tonight?Tonight
Tonight
