Unframed

OS 101

I'm feeling like I don't belongI remember when we spoke back then
I was cold and insincereI was just nineteen and so naive
And didn't care what you feelNow I seeMy father's one and only
Call is what could have saved meI've seen your face
In pictures with names
That never were framedI've seen your face
In pictures with names
That never were framedShe never framed youI can't place the blame, you gave her pain
But she lied to me for yearsThough she gave me live, I wonder why
She never even fearedThat I wouldGrow up so self-destructive
Fucked up and indecisiveI've seen your face
In pictures with names
That never were framedI've seen your face
In pictures with names
That never were framedYou were not there
You did not care
I'm not myself
I need to get my life
I need to take my life backYou were not there
You did not care
I'm not myself
I need to get my life
I need to take my life backYou were not there
You did not care
I'm not myself
I need to get my life
I need to take my life backI've seen your face in pictures unframed
I've seen your face in pictures unframedI've seen your face
In pictures with names
That never were framedI've seen your face
In pictures with names
That never were framedThat never were framedWho am I?
