Confused

Six Feet Under

I stand looking for a friend
Someone I can rely on
All the people laugh at me
I hide in my roomThey don't understand me
Think that I have gone insane
These four walls are closing on me
Can't they realize my painConfused, confused, confused
Can't you see that I'm confused?The wild state of affairs
Gets worse and worse day by day
Everybody seems to be confused
No one ever knows the wayBut still life carries on
And you live a day and you just wait
You only get one chance, don't let it just slip awayConfused, confused, confused
Can't you see that I'm confused?
