

Can't Lie

Roy English

Yeah the wall's ring, and I pick up, but it ain't you
Down the hallway, picture reframed, but it won't do

This place reminds me of you

I should just tell you the truth

But I'm lying to myself now

Saying I don't miss you baby

But I really miss you lately

Still I try try try and tell myself now

I don't really miss you baby

But I really miss you lately

I do

I can't lie

I do

I can't lie

When I see you, with your new friends, you look happy
Guess your flowers bloomed, like they couldn't do, when you had me

This place reminds me of you

I should just tell you the truth

But I'm lying to myself now

Saying I don't miss you baby

But I really miss you lately

Still I try try try and tell myself I, I don't really miss you baby

But I really miss you lately

I do

I can't lie

I do

I can't lie

I say I'm fine

Go out at night

Pretend I'm good without you, without you

I say I'm fine

Go out at night

Pretend I'm good without you, without you

But I'm lying to myself now

Saying I don't miss you baby

But I really miss you lately

Still I try try try and tell myself I, I don't really miss you baby

But I really miss you lately

I do

I can't lie

I do

I can't lie
