

I Know You Well

Fountains Of Wayne

This morning under awaking glow
The sun filled our room like December snow
 Like morning through an old window
There's a place in your head I will always know
 To the same world born two of a kind
If it's on your mind, it'll be on mine 'cause
 I know you well
 Like the soil in the ground
 (I know you well)
Grass grown in the shadow of a blow
 And if the blow will never toll
 You and me grow old
 I hope we'll live to tell
 How you know I know?
 You knew, I know you well
Down under beneath the softened skin
 Where the words we whisper sink in
It's no wonder the way the words still ring
 Sure as sin, it's not a secret thing
 To the same world born two of a kind
It's on your mind, it'll be on mine 'cause
 I know you well
 Like the soil in the ground
 (I know you well)
Grass grown in the shadow of a blow
 And if the blow will never toll
 You and me grow old
 I hope we'll live to tell
 How you know I know?
You knew I know New York in 1991
 Here in the same room for so long
 Out of the cold November
 Still as a passport picture
 Still as a passport picture
 Still as a passport picture when
To the same world born two of a kind
It's on your mind, it'll be on mine 'cause
 I know you well
 Like the soil in the ground

(I know you well)
Grass grown in the shadow of a blow
And if the blow will never toll
You and me grow old
I hope we'll live to tell
How you know I know?
You knew I know you well
