You're So Real

Matchbox Twenty

Yes, I am
I hope you think you read me
Hope I start talking crazy
Before you understand me
Are we through?
You think that I'm beneath you
But you like the things that I do
Wrap 'em up and take 'em with youI'm alright
Hope I can sleep for one night
If not to cool my insides
Maybe to calm my backside
Rain on me
I got a weakness in me
I think that weakness feeds me
I don't think you, think you need meSunshine
You're the best time
I ever, ever had
But I think I made you feel bad
The black fly on your necktie
Time after timeBut when the sun starts sinking
On your beautiful soul
Make you cry, cry baby
Make you feel so cold
Don't you know it's all right
Sometimes
You just got to show how you feel
Cuz that's you baby
Yeah, you're so realRun this round in your head
Like you don't know what's on the inside
You don't know me too well
You ain't seen my bad side
Shame on me
Shame on the things that I'd be
If you could complicate me
If you could get inside meSometimes
You're the best time
I've ever, ever known
Pretty girl with a wicked smile on
But I've cried

For the last time
Something just don't feel rightBut when the sun starts sinking
On your beautiful soul
Make you cry, cry baby
Make you feel so cold
Don't you know it's all right
Sometimes
Yeah, you're so realYou always know just who you are
You never needed someone else
To realize yourselfHey when the sun starts sinking
On your beautiful soul
Make you feel so cold
Sometimes
Hey well, you're so realHey baby you're so real
Hey baby you're so real
So real
So real
Oh yeah
Yeah yeah
Oh
