Al Tonno Q

Fireside

I forced myself to go alone
Because the clues had told me my mind ain't what it was before
I feel it's passing thru meI threw my head onto the floor
I felt so smallHanging around like seats in a bus
Just being there waiting for it to turn Normality for me is what show to watch There's so many things that I will never learnI can try, and I can lie
But I can't change my feelings
