

Al Tonno Q

Fireside

I forced myself to go alone
Because the clues had told me my mind ain't what it was before
I feel it's passing thru me I threw my head onto the floor
I felt so small Hanging around like seats in a bus
Just being there waiting for it to turn Normality for me is what show to watch There's so many things that I will never learn I can try, and I can lie
But I can't change my feelings
