Thresher

Hellions

[Verse 1]
I hate the radio
Advertisements, morning show hosts
And every cop on the side of the road
Everything outside the windscreen disturbs me
But inside itâ€™s worse
The thresher that we call this world
Reduces me to mere idle talk
Iâ€™m slowly but certainly descending

[Chorus]
Fuck you for not being strong enough
For letting me bare the weight of both of us
I canâ€™t forever be your crutch
Today I think Iâ€™ve had enough
[Verse 2] High at the airport, drunk at the beach
Iâ€™ve been numb for weeks, I canâ€™t feel a thing
Iâ€™ll swill or smoke, Iâ€™ll roll a note
If I just swallow, Iâ€™ll prevent the choke
So keep me up (keep me out)
Of this house (of this mind)
Cause there aâ€™int no use in worrying all the time
Take me back to where the flowers grow
To the man in the mirror that I used to know

[Chorus]
Fuck you for not being strong enough
For letting me bare the weight of both of us
I canâ€™t forever be your crutch
Today I think Iâ€™ve had enough

[Bridge]
Enough, enough - Iâ€™m screaming
Enough, enough - can you hear me now?
Enough, enough - Iâ€™m screaming
In mess I should be cleaning, running

[Outro]
The carousel slows, reality starts to set in
My friends are climbing off

How long have the horses been plastic?
Have we been going in circles?
Was I always alone?
Was it their voices I heard, or was it a dial tone?
I think Iâ€™ve always known
But I never cared to pay heed
Because I'm not, Iâ€™m not, Iâ€™m not, Iâ€™m not Ready to up and leave
At least just not like this
Cause this was our abyss
I loved you all, this was our home
We were together and I love it as it is

Lyrics Submitted by Rachel Aulbury

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/