Oh My God

Kaiser Chiefs

Time on your side that will never end
The most beautiful thing you can ever spend
But you work in a shirt with your name tag on it
Drifting apart like a plate tectonicIt don't matter to me

'Cause all I wanted to be

Was a million miles from here

Somewhere more familiarToo much time spent dragging the past up I didn't see you not looking when I messed up

Settling down in your early twenties

Sucked more blood than a backstreet dentistIt don't matter to me

'Cause all I wanted to be

Is a million miles from here

Somewhere more familiar And oh my God, I can't believe it

I've never been this far away from home

And oh my God, I can't believe it

I've never been this far away from homeAnd oh my God, I can't believe it

I've never been this far away from home

And oh my God, I can't believe it

I've never been this far away from homeGreat rulers make for greater glory

The only thing growing is our history

Knock me down, I'll get right back up again

I'll come back stronger than a powered up Pac-ManIt don't matter to me

'Cause all I wanted to be

Was a million miles from here

Somewhere more familiar And oh my God, I can't believe it

I've never been this far away from home

And oh my God, I can't believe it

I've never been this far away from homeAnd oh my God, I can't believe it

I've never been this far away from home

And oh my God, I can't believe it

I've never been this far away from homeAnd oh my God, I can't believe it

I've never been this far away from home

And oh my God, I can't believe it

I've never been this far away from homeAnd oh my God, I can't believe it

I've never been this far away from home

And oh my God, I can't believe it

I've never been this far away from
