Where I Find You

The O.C. Supertones

Well, I messed up, feel like I can't even lift my eyes up
Covering this stain that I'm ashamed of, way I take advantage of your love
And I'm terrified, stand before your throne with blood on my hands
I realize, it's only by your blood that I canI knew that this is where I'd find you
I don't have to remind you of all the times I've failed you
I knew that this is where I'd find you
So this is where I've come to, there's nothing else I can doI'm confessin', I'm up to my ears in transgression
Is this the way I thank you for a blessin'?
Know it's hard to tell but I am tryin'So here I am with nothing to say for myself
Once again to plead the blood and nothing elseI knew that this is where I'd find you
I don't have to remind you of all the times I've failed you
I knew that this is where I'd find you
So this is where I've come to, there's nothing else I can doSo here I am with nothing to say for myself
Once again, to plead the blood and nothing elseI knew that this is where I'd find you
I don't have to remind you of all the times I've failed you
I knew that this is where I'd find you
So this is where I've come to, there's nothing else I can doSo here I am with nothing to say for myself
Once again, to plead the blood and nothing elseI knew that this is where I'd find you
I don't have to remind you of all the times I've failed you
I knew that this is where I'd find you
So this is where I've come to, there's nothing else I can doI knew that this is where I'd find you
I don't have to remind you of all the times I've failed you
I knew that this is where I'd find you
So this is where I've come to, there's nothing else I can doThere's nothing else I can do, there's nothing else I can do
There's nothing else I can do, there's nothing else I can do
