Mind, Body, Spirit

Virgin Steele

On the bridge of hades, searching for a sign
On the brink of knowledge, there's no time
Shadow of the horseman who is sworn to rise
Seven are now waiting in the skies warring angels forage
Scavengers of pain I am born to power
Courage is my name

Rise on the wings of truth
To the sun we know that forever lives inside
Mind, body, spirit
All are one

Rising like a tower, fortune's torch revives
Slicing every rule that will divide
Who will hold the red queen when misfortune cries
Seven bands are waiting in the sky
Murder and fire and pain is the
Sign swollen with power your
Blood is my wine
And I know

Rise on the wings of doom to the sun
We know that forever lives inside
Mind, body, spirit, all are one
Mind, body, spirit, all are one

Prizing only valor numen steal the Light on the brink of knowledge
Burning bright shadow of the
Horseman who is sworn to rise
Sin and death are waiting in the Skies murder and fire and pain is the
Sign swollen with power your
Blood is my wine
And I know

Rise on the wings of death, to the sun
We know that forever lives inside

I see my vision, I see the line

Circling onward, looking for nine
I know the answer is not to be found
Searching in darkness with eyes of the blind
And in the morning,
Two will remain
To carry us onward, to guard the flame
That we know
There'll be time, for all, for all
We don't need you, we're fine on our own
We don't want you, leave us alone
Fortune is fire as numen we Shine invoking the power, your
Blood is my wine
And I know the mind is a tower
The body sublime the soul is the power, your
Blood is my wine
And I know
Leave us alone
