Loving You Without You

Paul Stanley

I want you to know
That I'm thinking about you now
Time passes so slow
I remember goodbye and the tears in your eyes, butWho's to say why we stay with another
Counting days till we're holding each otherI can hear your words, the sighs I heard still ring in my ears
I can close my eyes and feel you beside me
While I hope and pray to find a way to hold you somehow
I'm just loving you without you nowI want you to know
That your face is all I can see
And my, my feelings still growYou and I can't deny what we're feeling
We'll get by on these moments we're stealingI can hear your words, the sighs I heard still ring in my ears
I can close my eyes and feel you beside me
While I hope and pray to find a way to hold you somehow
I'm just loving you without you nowIt's all that I can do
Loving without you now
I'll find my way to you
Loving without you, loving without you, yeahWe'll get by on these moments together
Holding on till we find out forever
I want you to know
That I'm thinking about you nowI can hear your words, the sighs I heard still ring in my ears
I can close my eyes and feel you beside me
While I hope and pray to find a way to hold you somehow
I'm just loving you without you nowI can hear your words, the sighs I heard still ring in my ears
I can close my eyes and feel you beside me
While I hope and pray to find a way to hold you somehow
I'm just loving you without you now
And I'm gonna get to you somehow
