Her Name In Blood

Strung Out

Mother Mary bury me in a place they'll never find
I kill only what I love and what I love was never mine
Suffocate you outta me your the darkest of my sins
You're burnin' through my head don't know where I beginYour breathless violence open veins in silence
And devotion sacred and divine in this love that makes me
It's the hurt that moves me to betray you every time you pull me nearGive it away, give it away ride this bitch to hell
And blow a kiss when you only think of me
Hold my hand and fuck away this blankness of expression
And all sorrows in betweenHer name in blood and her eyes on me
Her deepest secret lies in front of me a
Whisper now is all that remains of meYou're the center of my unholy shrine
Scar tissue in time you're all mine
You're the last hint of self-control
My last chance just walked out the doorDrown out your artery straight through
A love that would never beHer name in blood and her eyes on me
Her deepest secret lies in front of me
A whisper now is all that remains of meThis sacrament is our punishment
I am the worst part of you
You are the only thing left to burn
