

Broken (Beautiful)

Chris Sligh

We're broken in two with love as an anchor
There's nothing to do but give in, give in Mirror less eyes give off a reflection
The moonlight is fair as we rise again

Oh, can we move on, can we move
From the love we've left behind?
Oh, can we move on, can we move on
From the love we'll never find?

We're giving into sweet desperation
When all this is through, we'll give in, give in Channels of grace give off the aroma
Of love mixed with pain and hope raised again

Oh, can we move on, can we move on
From the love we've left behind?
Oh, can we move on, can we move on
From the love we'll never find?

The world is broken in too many pieces
But the brokenness is beautiful, it's beautiful
My heart is broken by beauty's mysteries
But the brokenness is beautiful, it's beautiful

Oh, can we move on, can we move on
From the love we've left behind?
Oh, can we move on, can we move on
From the love we'll never find?

Yeah

The world is broken in too many pieces
But the brokenness is beautiful, it's beautiful
My heart is broken by beauty's mysteries
But the brokenness is beautiful, it's beautiful
