

Rewind

Jamie Mcdell

I remember waiting for those aeroplanes to cross the sky
Lie in golden grass and saviour every moment we're alive
A day in summer when the music played a different kind of song
Oh, oh

Nervous whisper as you asked me if I'd be your favourite girl
The painful memory of singing that we'd sail around the world
Now I'm wondering why I couldn't see how much I had to learn
To learn

[Chorus]

And rewind five times
So I can make it that we never met
And go back in time
So I can change the day that I let you in
Rewind five times

All my memories of you are tainted with a shade of grey
Didn't know that I was capable of taking love away
Now in winter all I hope for is some day I'll let it go
Let it go

[Chorus]

And rewind five times
So I can make it that we never met
And go back in time
So I can change the day that I let you in
Rewind five times

Release me from this never-ending hole
You've started war without a worthy cause
Erase it all before my mind explodes

[Chorus]

And rewind five times
So I can make it that we never met
And go back in time
So I can change the day that I let you in
Rewind five times

I remember waiting for those aeroplanes to cross the sky
Lie in golden grass and savour every moment we're alive
A day in summer when the music played a different kind of song
Oh, oh

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnllyrics.com/>