Midnight Sun

Duran Duran

As I watch you flickering slowly
In the shadows nothing to hold
It's as if I don't recall our time before
And would it be so wrong
Not to remember There are times I look at you differently
Like I've never seen you before

Funny, after all we've done You could be someone I don't know at all

Don't know you at allCatch me, I don't want to fallBut you pull the mountain from under me

Look, I'm dangling up in the blue

And it's a cartoon kind of eternity

Before I drop down to you

What am I supposed to do now? There is something beautiful shining

In the hollow knot of your head

Funny, for a while it seemed

To come from the sky but it's in your head

Yes, it fills your headYou and I don't always fly

Let me down, I want to fall

Deep into the dark

But I'll come back to youAnd I'll always know how to find you 'Cause you shine like the midnight sun
