Sky

Violet Indiana

I can't describe why I go there
I don't even know myself
I know when I get there
It feels like homeBut it feels so right
I know I could be gone awayIn my mind, I'm broken
As I wander through this world
And I keep on thinking
I'll be held by golden sunIn your arms keep on holding me
No regrets, just desire for you
Can't describe why I go there
What it is that you do to meBut it feels so right
I know I should be gone
But it feels so right
[Though it looks so wrong]But it feels so right
Even though they say it's gone
How can it be wrong, yeahHow can it be so wrong
How can it be so wrong
