I Don't Want To See You Like This

The Joy Formidable

A bridge splits November's sky
I'm in two halves inside
This is the past right here
I choose to leave it hereThe cliffs loom to scrape you thin
The bowl churns to over spill
But I can see us here
Without this fearI want to find those books
Search your face, torment us
You're just a shower to someone dry
A shower to the wilted and the dried'Cause we all leave courage's side
But I'll always be courage's child
The past I'll clear
I choose to leave it hereYou say have your time again
But you can't and the warning starts now
What's in the frame?
It makes you sad but you can't fill the gapsWe're four rings on a chain
So don't make them rust
I'll be your maps, I'll be your eyes
I'll give the ending a nudgeAnd I don't want to see you like this
I don't want to see you like this
And I don't want to see you like this
I don't want to see you like thisAlive now in the middle not looking from outside
Wishing that it was a screen fight
Settled with all of a hero's flair
Put aside, find a new characterI don't want to, don't want to
Don't want to see you like this
And I don't want to see you like this
I don't want to see you like thisA bridge splits November's sky
I'm in two halves inside
This is the past right here
I choose to leave it here
