

Could It Be You

Cascada

Close my eyes, I try to hide
I'm listening to my voice inside
Why don't you tell me right or wrong?
I need to know where I belong For all the days I ran away
I never dared to ask me, "Who could I be?
Who can bring back the love that's inside me?" Could it be you or do I lose my way?
I'm here but colorblind
Could it be you or do I break away?
So leave the past behind I only wanna feel the sunlight, stop the fight
And see it in your eyes Wish I just knew what I should do
Could it be you?
Somebody tell me if it's true, I don't have a clue
Could it be you? Too many things said and done
Sure if you could be the one
To dry the tears I left behind
To chase these demons off my mind I see your face and touch your skin
Is this a fight we both can't win?
Sometimes the truth is miles apart
But it's hard to break your heart Could it be you or do I lose my way?
I'm here but colorblind
Could it be you or do I break away?
So leave the past behind I only wanna feel the sunlight, stop the fight
And see it in your eyes Wish I just knew what I should do
Could it be you?
Somebody tell me if it's true, I don't have a clue
Could it be you? Baby, I don't wanna waste your love
Though it's hard to just walk on
But will this search be never-ending?
Where do I belong? Could it be you or do I lose my way?
I'm here but colorblind
Could it be you or do I break away
Just to leave the past behind? I only wanna feel the sunlight, stop the fight
And see it in your eyes Wish I just knew what I should do
Could it be you?
Somebody tell me if it's true, I don't have a clue
Could it be you? Maybe it is me who's too blind to see that it's you
For everything I am, everything I need, lies in you
