Crybabies

Rasputina

Two big babies met on a winter's day
They thought they'd get all dressed up to play
So they went outside, never to return
They laugh, they hide, babies never learnBut they cry and they cry
Who said babies never die?
They cry
Who said babies never die?One pushed the other down into the salty snow
He looked around, no one would ever know
Bad things happen to babies all the time
They laugh at who kisses them, times nineBut they cry and they cry
Who said babies never die?
They cry
Who said babies never die?
