Songbird

Forty Foot Echo

There's a songbirdIt's flying away from me
Never knew how far id have to goCould've been you and me
It could've been you inside the world
Just between you and me
Now it's just you against the world[Chorus]
The lights are on but you're not home
'Cause I am just a passerby
I feel I've lost my self control
To all the bullshit that you hide
The lights are on but you're not there
Still you find the reason why
There's a shadow behind youThere's a window
It's holdin on memories
Just to see your face and know your nameThere's no change in silence
Look past the world of yesterday
Take me awayThis song I sing for you and me[Chorus]There's a shadow behind you

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/