

Let Your Heart Sing

Katharine McPhee

It starts with a whisper, a sound on the breeze
Dancing on moonbeams and shaking the trees
From one single note to a chorus at dawn
It grows like your hope from the moment it's born
Flying over rainbows
On the promise of tomorrow
Let the truth save the day
And you'll never lose your way If you follow, follow the voice in your heart
Always know that's how to find who you are
So hold on, never let go of your dreams
You'll see the magic
Believing is where it begins
Life is a beautiful thing
Let your heart sing
Let your heart sing, let your heart sing,
Let your heart sing It starts with a secret, a glimmer of light
The last leaf that falls, the swallow's first flight
The touch of a raindrop, the sparkle of snow
The North Star that guides you
Wherever you go
Racing every shadow
Chasing sunlight 'til the stars glow
Let the truth in your heart
Save you every day
You'll never lose your way If you follow,
Follow the voice in your heart
Always know that's how to find
Who you are
So hold on,
Never let go of your dreams
You'll see the magic
Believing is where it begins
Life is a beautiful thing
Let your heart sing, let your heart sing,
Let your heart sing
Sing your song your whole life long
Let your heart sing, let your heart sing
