

A Gift to the World

KingCharlie Prince

A Gift To The World

(Hook) 2Xs

We all come in this world, not knowing nothing

When we get that real knowledge, they know we on to something

Now you could be boy, you could even be a girl

What difference does it make, you're still (A Gift To The World)

(Verse 1)

Each and every time a new baby is born, you know we gotta get it on

Get knowledge so they could warn

Others about what's going on, and being strong

Even if we rap, we put the message in the song

The babies are the future, the keys to open doors

We must teach them the truth, what the hell you waiting for ?

The bible say my people destroyed for lack of knowledge

Don't think you are educated because you finished college

There's a higher learning, but we failed to seek the truth

Take a look at the proof, you could tell by the youth

They ain't trying to be slaves to a system filled with lies

Preachers say when they die--they go straight to the sky

We gotta teach the babies better and that's a fact

Otherwise we put them position to be attacked

(Hook) 2Xs

We all come in this world, not knowing nothing

When we get that real knowledge, they know we on to something

Now you could be boy, you could even be a girl

What difference does it make, you're still (A Gift To The World)

Verse 2

The garden is the mind of a child to plant the seed

If we plant the wrong thoughts how the hell they're gonna lead ?

They would never succeed with the mind of a slave

Plus they have to be brave in order to go and save

The generations coming next

Yeah I know it's not an easy task, there are times you gonna get vexed

Even when Jesus tried, he had it rough

But he fought to the end till God said enough

The children wanna know the truth about the past

But the parents are too lazy to study, that's really sad

When they go to the schools, they are taught so many lies

And being deprived of the truth, destabilized

A gift to the world is precious, so treat it right

Don't fill it with junk, if you're smart you'll give it light

(Hook) 2Xs

We all come in this world, not knowing nothing

When we get that real knowledge, they know we on to something

Now you could be boy, you could even be a girl

What difference does it make, you're still (A Gift To The World)
