

Wake up Screaming

House of Heroes

Remember in the summer just melting away,
Riding in your brother's Camaro,
Every little sound on a dubbed cassette,
Hit you in the heart like an arrow,
Now I don't feel it like I did then,
Something just seemed to vanish,
But when I turn my ear to the August Wind,
I can still hear the magic.
Oh, oh.CHORUS
Yeah, we are infinite,
Don't you ever forget it,
Never forget it,
We are infinite.The house your daddy built is buried under a mall,
Our favorite record store is an office,
What happened to the places that made us?
Did they all get lost in progress?
Even though it's gone it still lives on,
If only as a distant echo,
Bouncing off the metal of years gone by,
That I could never learn to let go,CHORUSI had a dream that you were pulled up in my drive,
A cigarette drawn to your lips,
When I woke I could hear you ringing in my ears,
Telling me to never forget,CHORUSRemember in the summer just melting away,
Riding in your brother's Camaro,
Every little sound on a dubbed cassette,
Hit you in the heart like an arrow,

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>