For Her

Alex Dimou

When I start thinking, this is only a lust
I must confess I'd be better on my own
Then I start thinking this is really love
And I confess I can't do this aloneDon't look straight ahead, look to the side
Just keep me in the corner of your eye
Until it's time to go againI keep this with me
It's so bittersweet night after nightDon't take this the wrong way, darling
You mean the world to me
I just never want that and we can keep singing
"Wedding cake and toothache equals love and pain"I keep this with me
It's so bittersweet night after night
