Somewhere Else to Fall

Alecia Nugent

My first mistake was thinking I knew where I stood
I thought I had a place here in your heart
If I can make your mind up, you know I would
But a girl can only chase a dream so farDo you see forever when you look at me
Am I the everything you'll ever need
Should I stay, I've got to know
Boy, it's now, or let me go
Does this feeling have a chance at all
If you can't tell me where I stand
I'll find somewhere else to fallI'm still waiting for a reason not to leave
If you've got one, I haven't heard it yet
Boy, why's it so hard for for you to talk to me
Tell me before I take another standDo you see forever when you look at me
Am I the everything you'll ever need
Should I stay, I've got to know
Boy, it's now, or let me go
Does this feeling have a chance at all
If you can't tell me where I stand
I'll find somewhere else to fall
