The New Order

Blind Guardian

Would you open the door?
Son, I know the way
Soon the flickering light will grow
Leave it to me nowUnchained
UnchainedWould you open the door?
Enter the here and now, a new horizon
You'll rise, you'll fall and learn to live
Keep the faith, keep the paceYour soul's like water but
Your fate is like the windHere's the new order
Hope shall be your guide
Praise the new order
Now let my spirit goDo you remember
When we were moon knights?
We've slain the dragon
In the room nowYours is the future
Your quest for truth
How will it end up
I really do not knowThis is no wonderland
(Just keep in mind)
Like a spell in certain books
Time will change it allAway, oh, please embrace me
Away, I will be goneI'll take a look to see what lies beyond the break of dawn
Would you open the door?
There is so much more to say
Keep the faith, keep the paceThe soul's like water but
Your fate is like the windHere's the new order
Hope shall be your guide
Praise the new order
Now let my spirit goWill you remember the old rule
And will you fulfill this sacrifice?
Done for the future, space for the new
How will it end up, that's up to youYou're on the bridge on the borderline
No matter how you'll never ever leave itHere's the new order
Hope shall be your guide
Praise the new order
Now let my spirit goTimes will change
The soul's like water and like rain it will return
Live on in healing rain
The past shall find release
