The Flowers

Ah-Mer-Ah-Su

I wake up in a strange new place
I search and find my game-face.
Muster up the energy to seize the day.
Get up and try to fly away.

But this is how it works, there's work work work,
You get tired, tired tired. And tendencies in the garden.
And you know that the flowers will soon be there.
And you know that the flowers will soon be there.

I've been on the trains, I've waited for the bus,
I've watched all these bodies flying off in a rush.
But Rome wasn't built in a day. Isn't that what they say?

Well this is how it works. Gotta work, work, work.
You get tired, tired tired. You have tendencies in the garden.
And you know that the flowers will soon be there.
You know that the flowers will soon be there.

Sometimes when I find a feel I start to lose myself.
Don't forget I never said I did it for my health.

Sometimes when I find a feel I start to lose myself.
Don't forget I never said I did it for my health.
