Hungry Eyes

Tim Obrien

So long she's been alone now her tears have dried
No more she's thinkin' of him
Her love has diedCalling and reaching, lookin' through hungry eyes
Scenes change and rearrange, lookin' through hungry eyesI knew the two of them
When they were young
She seemed so different then
When they were oneShe never felt alone, now she has hungry eyes
People see her differently, lookin' through hungry eyesDanger is all around when your guard is down
You need an angel
If she falls for some stranger, he might knock her down
She needs an angelHer heart is healing well
She's walking tall
Hiding her feelings well
But she can't hide them allCalling and reaching, lookin' through hungry eyes
Scenes change and rearrange, lookin' through hungry eyes

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/