

Hungry Eyes

Tim O'Brien

So long she's been alone now her tears have dried
No more she's thinkin' of him
Her love has died Calling and reaching, lookin' through hungry eyes
Scenes change and rearrange, lookin' through hungry eyes I knew the two of them
When they were young
She seemed so different then
When they were one She never felt alone, now she has hungry eyes
People see her differently, lookin' through hungry eyes Danger is all around when your guard is down
You need an angel
If she falls for some stranger, he might knock her down
She needs an angel Her heart is healing well
She's walking tall
Hiding her feelings well
But she can't hide them all Calling and reaching, lookin' through hungry eyes
Scenes change and rearrange, lookin' through hungry eyes

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>