Days And Days

Tegan And Sara

it must be something in the way you move it must be something in the way you look I'm not sure just yetmust be something in the way you dream you just go home and the thirteen days inbetween you and Ithis is me before I come undone this is me before I fall apart
I've been tired for days and days I've been tired for days and daysit must be something in the way you move innocent like you gave in just like you always wouldit must be something in the way they say and the magic that you bring in between all you implythis is me before I come undone
this is me before I fall apart
I've been tired for days and days I've been tired for days and daysit could have been a month or it could have been a year but I I gave up long before long before you cared her art inspired me to
to do my best and to paint my music like like I saw it best and she says I grew up well well, well I grew up strong cause no one's got my back no one's gonna write me my songsit could have been a month or
it could have been a year but I I gave up long before
cause I've been tired for days and days
I've been tired for days and days and days
I've been tired for days and days and days
I've been tired for days and days and days I've been tired for days and days and daysit could have been a month or it could have been a year but I I gave up long before

like I saw it best and
she says I grew up well
it could have been a year but I I gave up long before
cause I've been tired for days and days
I've been tired for days and days and days
I've been tired for days and days and days
I've been tired for days and days and days
I've been tired for days and days and days
