The Broken Minor

Elliot Minor

We've broken down, we're fading out, and you fall on your knees, and stand defeat, just when it feels like hell is freezing over, hold on, embrace, this symphony.Let's play the very first line, it feels much better,
And it's all in time, it's coming together,
When the drums come in, the keys getting louder,
Now I'm building a collision of chords.This time it's not tiny voices, it's a chorus of noise,
We're surfing a see of places, now, now, now we're singing,
A fanfare of sound, pulled out from within,
We fly through the broken minor,
Woah, woah, woah, we've come back down.When you've been let down, it's a bitter end,
Everyone stands off, you know, you're lost again,
The lights are fading and we're still escapingm
The city and twilight that marks and fills the sky.Let's play the very first line, it feels much better,
And it's all in time, it's coming together,
When the drums come in, the keys getting louder,
Now I'm building a collision of chords.This time it's not tiny voices, it's a chorus of noise,
We're surfing a see of places, now, now, now we're singing,
A fanfare of sound, pulled out from within,
We fly through the broken minor,
Woah, woah, woah, we've come back down.Not the last time, I can't stay...I can't stay away..
It's not the last time.Let's play the very first line, it feels much better,
And it's all in time, it's coming together,
When the drums come in, the keys getting louder,
Now I'm building a collision of chords.This time it's not tiny voices, it's a chorus of noise,
We're surfing a see of places, now, now, now we're singing,
A fanfare of sound, pulled out from within,
We fly through the broken minor,
Woah, woah, woah, we've come back down.
(Woah oh, woah oh.....) A fanfare of sound, pulled out from within, we fly through the broken minor,
Woah, woah, woah, we've come back down.
